

Reports favour Peterborough for museum

The final report of the feasibility study examining the future of the Kanawa Canoe Museum has been released. The report reconfirms the position announced in the interim study, recommending Peterborough as the most suitable location for any new facility to house the canoe and kayak collection.

"Our conclusion," the report states, "is that a first class museum, built around and developing the existing collection of watercraft, located in Peterborough, is indeed financially and otherwise feasible."

The report continues, "We urge the Trent - Kanawa Committee to obtain from the President and the Board of Governors of Trent University the authorization to enter into discussions with Professor Kirk Wipper, (the owner of the collection) and the museum's board of directors with a view to implementing the recommendations of this report."

The study has designated two sites within Peterborough as prime locations for the new museum. One is adjacent to the lift lock while the second is on the campus on Trent University, further upstream.

The study, carried out by MacLennan Associates for a special committee of Trent University, proposes that a five million dollar museum complex be established in Peterborough to house the collection. It has been estimated that an annual operating cost of $800,000 would be required by the museum and that the facility would operate at an annual deficit of $188,000. Included in the building would be a gift shop, licenced restaurant and snack bar and other facilities.

The consultants suggest that $1,250,000 could be raised through public subscription while government sources would provide approximately $5 million.

Board meets

Shortly after the study was released last month, members of the newly re-organized board of directors of the museum and members of several groups in Haliburton County interested in keeping the collection in the Highlands, met at the museum. In attendance were Haliburton County Warden Bill Howe, Bob Stinson of the Chamber of Commerce, Harry Davis the Reeve of Stanhope Township and Jack Brezina of the citizens committee formed two years ago to help keep the museum in the county.

The Museum spokesmen have asked the county groups to prepare a proposal which could lead to a proposal which would result in the museum remaining in the county. A committee has been formed to prepare a detailed report to be presented to the museum's board of directors.

In the meantime, the future of the museum is still up in the air. Most of the exhibits in the collection remain the personal property of Kirk Wipper and before any move is made to relocate the items, his permission will be required.

On the other hand, the building where the collection is now on display does not meet certain standards which would be required for a collection of this quality. Such amenities as fire protection, climate control, visitor control and others are lacking. Wipper has admitted that

Leaning tree disturbs two homes

When a tree in the rear yard of Bob and Joanne Penfold's started to lean against the hydro lines following the storm Friday, it caused problems for more than one family.

The tree, a poplar, had been damaged by the high winds and heavy rains which accompanied the brief downpour in Minden. The branches of the tree were resting on the roof of the Penfold home and also putting pressure on the electrical power service lines leading to the house.

Hydro officials were called and they decided to bring the tree down before it caused any serious damage. However, as the workmen started to cut down the tree they noticed the poplar was the home for a nest of newly hatched robins.

Not wanting to disturb the young birds, but anxious to eliminate the hazard caused by the leaning tree, the Hydro employees cut off the limb in which the nest was located and tied it to a nearby pole. While the adult robins were momentarily upset by this relocation, they quickly adapted to the new situation and have continued to feed the young in the nest.

With the nest safely out of the way, the hazardous tree was brought to the ground and sliced into fireplace lengths.

The Penfold family and others in the neighbourhood have been watching with interest as the adult robins tend to the needs of their young, oblivious to the fact the branch that is their home is securely tied with a rope to a pole.

Secure in their nest, the young robins reach upward with their mouths open waiting for one of the parents to bring them a tasty morsel. The branch in which their nest is located has been lashed to a Hydro pole, after the tree was brought to the ground by a Hydro crew.

Causeway, waterlevels concern property owners

Water levels, the state of township roads and the work carried out in the Shuyler Island causeway were three main areas of discussion as over 50 people attended the annual meeting of the Horseshoe Lake Property Owners Association. The group met

Saturday afternoon at the cottage of their president Gene Lucas.

The president reported to the membership that he had attended a meeting of the Haliburton County Water Level Committee last week. On behalf of the association he had asked the committee to recommend to the Trent - Severn Authority that water levels on Horseshoe Lake be set at 95% of what is considered "full". He said the 5% difference would mean a reduction in the water level of four inches. Lucas also said an 85% minimum level would be requested. He said if the water levels could be maintained between these points, it would allow for a fluctuation of about one foot.

The president noted the waterway authority was required to keep the lake 100% filled during the winter months to provide adequate supplies for the power plant on Minden Lake.

Several members expressed concern over the flood conditions this spring when some roads near the lakeshore were underwater. Others expressed the opinion that water levels have been steadily rising over the years but that conditions this spring were the highest ever noted.

Lucas pointed out that the water level committee was formed a number of years ago in response to a summer of drastically low water levels. The committee acts as an advisory body for the Trent-Severn authority.

The group agreed to back the 95%-85% water level request for Horseshoe Lake. It was also suggested that more funds be expanded by the authority to study the reservoir lake in the county and to employ more people to make the operation of area dams more efficient.

Causeway Concerns

Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Gary Kenney was in attendance to respond to questions about a number of issues. The item which drew the greatest response was the installation of new culverts in the Shuyler Island causeway.

Property owners on a portion of the lake have been petitioning the municipal council for a number of years. They claim that since a bridge was removed from the causeway, the circulation of water has decreased to the point that the water often has a foul odour and weed growth has increased. The 1980-82 council agreed to install a number of new culverts after a series of studies and an agreement was struck with the organization. Three culverts were set in place last fall.

Those in attendance Saturday however, were critical of the way the work was done and the number of culverts installed. They pointed out that the culverts were now half out of the water and, as one member asked, "are they there for water flow or air flow." It was noted that five culverts had been requested and only three installed. The group insisted they had struck an agreement with the council to have the work carried out and they felt the council was obligated to add to the work done.

Councillor Kenney admitted the causeway "problem" had been inherited by the present council. As head of the road committee he had studied the situation and talked with experts in various provincial ministries but had not been able to obtain an opinion that adding more culverts to the causeway would improve the conditions in the back bay. "We have been told by the Ministry of Natural Resources that the environment in the area is stable and there was concern that further changes could have an impact on the area.

Kenney said that since no precise benefit could be predicted by experts, the Roads Committee has recommended that no more money be spent on culvert work on the causeway. He said the committee wished to see things remain as is with no more relocations or additions of culverts. "We don't have any more money to spend on the causeway," he told the meeting.

The membership insisted that at least the municipality install the existing culverts at a lower level so they will have an impact rather than being half out of water. "The least you can do is ensure the job is done correctly," a member pleaded.

Kenney agreed to take the suggestion back to the Road Committee with the possibility of including the work in next year's budget. However, the councillor held out little hope that further work would be done in the causeway, much to the consternation of the association membership.

Reynolds Road Work

Kenney sought the co-operation of property owners along Reynolds Road to improve the ditching on either side of the roadway. He noted that the road does not follow the approved road allowance so the co-operation of the adjacent property owners would be needed to complete the work.

Kenney pointed out that during spring and fall the road is in rough condition because there are no ditches to carry away the water. Some concern was expressed about the impact an improved road would have on the area, perhaps encouraging drivers to travel at a higher speed.

The co-operation the councillor sought did not materialize.

Before the meeting closed the membership chose the new executive for the coming year. Gene Lucas will serve again as president. The secretary is Pauline Plooard, treasurer Ann Lucas and social convener Fran Smith. The post of vice-president was left vacant and is expected to be filled later this year.

New gallery show features varied media

An interesting and varied display of paintings opened Thursday evening at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden. The work of Franz Schmidt, a prolific and talented artist, was presented along with the usual tasty nibbles.

The treat of the evening was the artist, who was in attendance, enthusiastically introducing his work to the visitors. There is little doubt in the mind of anyone who meets Franz Schmidt that he is a dedicate, one might say devout, artist. "I waited 50 years to do this, now it is my life," he commented. "Wherever I go I have my painting kit with me, all that I need to make a quick sketch, capture a scene or a mood." The small paintings, many of which were on display, are then used as the basis for larger interpretations.

The artists mention of 50 years refers to the fact that at age 50 he retired, sold his successful furniture importing business in Toronto, and devoted his time to painting and creating. That was seven years ago and if the enthusiasm he displayed Thursday is any indication, he'll be at it for many years to come.

Schmidt's work is offered in a number of media with water colours predominating. Water, in lakes, rivers, shorelines, mists, fogs, snow and storms, are evident in almost all his work, evidence perhaps of the time spent at his cottage on Georgian Bay. The water colours, while sometimes obscure in detail, are strong in mood and feeling. Fog shrouds a point of land in mystery, forcing the viewers to squint into the haze, are these objects partially hidden there or does the fog, the light, the artist, succeed in playing tricks with the viewer. On another picture the heat of a sultry summer afternoon radiates from the canvass. "Feel that heat," the artist encourages with equal intensity. On another wall the stinging cold of winter's day sweeps off a canvas of frosted evergreens.

Several areas around Minden have provided material for Schmidt's work. He is a regular visitor to this area, staying with friends.

While the water colours predominate, his other work offers interesting variations on mixed media. An interesting technique of combining sand with acrylic gives the painting depth and texture. Schmidt has also combined water colours and a polymer to give permanency to the water colour medium, which he notes usually fades with time.

But perhaps the most interesting innovation offered in the show is a grouping of chunks of wood, retrieved from nature and painted with acrylics to bring out the hidden face or surreal figure. Some of the work is over done while others are enhanced by the artist's touch. It is something to see for everyone who ever rescued a piece of driftwood from the shore and placed it on the mantle or coffee table.

While the attendance Thursday was encouraging it was unfortunate more people were not on hand for the opening. Certainly with the artist available, especially one as enthusiastic and outgoing as Franz Schmidt, appreciation of the display and the interpretations offered add a great deal to the enjoyment of the evening.

The works of Franz Schmidt continues until July 27.

he is unable, financially, to bring the present facility up to an acceptable level. This lack of financial resources may result in a decision which could see the collection moved to another location outside the county.

In the final draft of the feasibility study, the consultants identify high community support and excellent canoeing possibilities in the Highlands as two reasons for keeping the collection in Haliburton County. The report states, "...the lower tourism potential and lack of proximity to a university are constraining factors to the development of the project," (in the county). "For the Kanawa International Museum to be recognized as a major museum attraction, research and interpretive support should be secured ... although the proposed development would undoubtedly stimulate the existing tourism industry, it would not generate enough demand to create a tourism destination in an area without the support of a substantial tourism base."

First choice

The selection as Peterborough as the first choice for any new museum rested on its strong tourism base, availability of research facilities, through Trent University, and the canoeing possibilities, which ranked below Haliburton's, but higher than most others considered.

Among the other locations evaluated in the study, Ottawa came closest to Peterborough in the selection process. Under the system of ranking the various options being considered, Ottawa was a half point behind Peterborough in the over-all rating. In the same ranking, Haliburton placed fourth behind Peterborough, Ottawa and Toronto. Two other locations were also assessed, Port Hope and Bracebridge.

What happens now with the results of the study will depend on a number of factors. The re-organized board of directors for the museum has taken a keen interest in the future of the collection. As well, the fact that the collection is still private property, owned by Kirk Wipper, is a matter which will have to be resolved before any decision is made on whether a museum will be constructed and where.

In the meantime, it is expected that lobbying efforts on behalf of Haliburton County as a location for the collection will continue. How successful that effort is will be determined by how eager the other areas are to obtain the museum and how strong an effort is made to keep it here.

Of all the areas considered by the consultants as a possible location for the Kanawa International Canoe Museum, Haliburton County stands to gain the most. The consultants recognize this in their findings but then quickly dismiss it. The report states, "although the proposed development would undoubtedly stimulate the existing tourism industry, it would not generate enough demand to create a tourism destination in an area without the support of substantial tourism base."

It's a classic 'chicken or egg' argument. All economic studies carried out on this area point to tourism as the one road to economic stability. We have been told time and time again to provide attractions, build facilities, promote.

However, when a solid opportunity such as this to create a major drawing card for the Haliburton Highlands comes along, the card is quickly palmed and shuffled off to somewhere else where the tourism base is stronger. With that sort of attitude there is surely little hope that tourism growth will ever occur in this county in a large enough way to be called a boom industry.

The Haliburton Highlands is slowly finding its place in the world of tourism. A world class museum, such as the facility proposed for the Kanawa collection, would be the boost needed to really put this area on the map. It will certainly do a lot more for the Highlands than it will for Peterborough or Ottawa or Toronto.

The final affront is the fact that the collection is already here and other areas are vying to steal it away from us. Everyone in the county should be prepared to ensure that does not happen.

An early classic

Fenelon marks 100 years

-by Bill Scott M.P.-

Since Parliament recessed on June 29th, I have been quite busy. Over the July 1st weekend, I attended functions in West Guilford, Fenelon Falls and Bolsover. All were well attended and I was glad to have the opportunity of meeting so many of you.

The Fenelon Falls ceremonies were in celebration of the beginning of a month of activities planned to commemorate the Fenelon Falls Locks Centennial '83. If you have some spare time this month, I am sure you will enjoy participating in their Centennial events.

I have also been able to attend a number of anniversary and birthday celebrations. I thank all those who have been so thoughtful to invite me and I extend my best wishes to all the celebrants.

On a more sombre note, I had the unpleasant task of looking at the mess created by the recent tornadoes in the Haliburton area. These freak accidents of nature are never pleasant, but I am sure those affected will take it in their stride and bounce back quickly with the help of their friends and neighbours.

The only real news from Ottawa is the announcement by the Minister of Agriculture that a giant party is being held in honour of the final Royal Assent being given to Bill C-85 creating Canagrex. It is an odd thing that Mr. Whelan feels he must spend so much of our money to celebrate the creation of a Crown Corporation designed to help the agriculture industry. Would that money not be better spent in direct assistance to the industry? As the proposed 6 & 5 party, I suggest that this one should also be reconsidered.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

For several years, participants at the annual Federal-Provincial Wildlife Conference, a gathering of government and private agency officials, have struggled to draft a rational wildlife policy for Canada. The concept is compelling for a number of reasons especially the need to define a common thrust and priorities for wildlife conservation across the country.

The final text was approved at a meeting of Federal and Provincial Ministers last year and has just been released in a handy booklet form. Its stated intent is to "form a framework within which government and non-government organizations can develop their own policies and programs, and a statement of general direction in which wildlife conservation should move in the next decade."

Sounds good, and the contents themselves sound better still. There are admirable sentiments expressed about the interdependence of all living organisms and the need for an "ecological approach"; about the need to conserve wildlife for their own sake independent of our benefit; and the need for co-operative efforts to ensure the sustainable use of wildlife. Then there are eight thought-provoking principles, followed by 9 elements of a strategy for acting on these principles, together with 46 suggestions for concrete action.

An optimist would applaud the document as a miracle of federal-provincial concensus, a systematic top-down application to Canada of the World Conservation Strategy, and a bold step forward for resource managers who have traditionally focussed on the economic exploitation of a few species.

A pessimist will point out that the operative word in the document's title (Guidelines For Wildlife Policy in Canada) is "Guidelines"; that the politicians who signed it have only promised to "consider" taking the actions proposed; and that the enormous range of very general action proposals provides little, if any, "direction" to wildlife managers. After all, national debates continue to rage about just one of the 46 suggestions, which is to:

Of particular interest were the model aircraft, controlled by radio, which performed all the manoeuvres the full sized planes completed. The ultra-light aircraft drifted slowly overhead powered by two small engines. While the craft may be regarded as one of the latest developments in aviation, in many ways they are representative of man's first power assisted flight at Kitty Hawk.

Up in the air in Stanhope

A large crowd was on hand Sunday at the Stanhope Airport to enjoy the excitement of the annual air show. Unfortunately, several of the acts which were expected to attend, were unable to make it and the aerial displays were somewhat shorter than usual.

Nevertheless, those pilots and craft which took to the air provided an interesting and entertaining show looping through the air high above the crowd.

Back on the ground there were other diversions to amuse the crowd. A tasty beef barbeque was served throughout the day and visitors also had an opportunity to view a number of antique cars. The Jeff Barry Band entertained following the air show.

Close to 100 individuals took part in a balloon race, the results of which will not be known until August 10. Balloons bearing numbered tags were filled with helium and sent aloft. For those willing to pay the $1 entry fee, there was a chance of winning $20 if their balloon travels the farthest and is returned to the Stanhope Municipal office by August 10.

The photos here capture some of the excitement of the day, particularly the flight of the ultra-light aircraft.

Pushing the button on acid rain

While many are studiously ignoring the acid precipitation problem throughout northeastern North America, one young Minden man has decided to put the issue out in front.

Steve Stewart of Jordan Drive in Minden Township has designed a series of buttons which he is attempting to spread across the area and, through contacts, perhaps into the United States.

"I'm trying to make people aware of the problem. Somebody's got to do something," said the 20 year old.

"They weren't designed to scare people, just make people aware of this problem we have," added his father Barry.

The long process started back in April, said Stewart. "While at the Sportsman's Show in Toronto, he discussed the idea with button manufacturers displaying their wares. Taking a constructive step to do his part to publicize this concern appealed to Steve and so he designed five buttons with catchy phrases. He sent the rough designs to one of the producers from the show.

At the plant the manufacturer refined the artwork for the design for a fee. Following that, the buttons were set out in four colours and 2500 of them were stamped out.

Steve Stewart has designed a series of buttons protesting acid rain. The messages on the button include: Quack down on acid rain; Acid Rain burns my bass; Help stop acid rain--complain; among others.

It was two months before Stewart received the buttons and now almost all 2500 have been sold. He says he will probably order another 2500.

Most of the buttons were sold with the help of Sonya Holliday-Rhodes, president of the anti-pollution committee in the county.

"Mrs. Holliday-Rhodes sold about 2000 of them," grinned Stewart, impressed with her sales ability. "She's helped me alot." He's also grateful to the others helping him sell his buttons.

Stewart said a percentage of the button sales will go to an acid rain group, probably the Haliburton County association, to support efforts to stop acid rain.

Stewart sells the buttons to small stores in the area and, to a lesser extent, resorts. He has met some opposition at resorts, told "people don't want to be reminded of acid rain on their holidays."

In fact, following an earnest discussion with a woman at one resort, he was shown the door. "Some people understand, some don't."

Steve finds it hard to understand how people can turn their backs on this ongoing and worsening problem.

"The problem's there, you can't get away with sticking your head in the sand. It won't go away."

from the chamber

As regular readers of this column will know, this column gets a new author as of this week. Bob Stinson has been writing this column for the last several years but now has stepped down from the job of manager of the Chamber so that he can devote more time to his business. He will be working part-time from his home as the Marketing Representative for the Chamber.

I'm Frank McCarron, the new Chamber of Commerce Manager. I started last Wednesday and so this is my first Chamber column. I'm currently in the process of moving here from Brampton where I lived for a year. Before that I went to Wilfrid Laurier University (formerly Waterloo Lutheran) in Waterloo where I studied Business Administration and specialized in Marketing. I'm originally a native of Amherstburg, Ontario, a tourist, industrial and agricultural town in southwestern Ontario near Windsor.

Right now is a busy time in the Chamber office as Bob Stinson winds down his duties as Manager and I get into the swing of things. High season in the tourism industry is in full swing and so the phone keeps ringing and a steady stream of visitors are coming into our information centre to ask about local accommodations, eateries, places to shop and things to see.

It would be greatly appreciated if any member who has any extra copies of the Chamber Directory would please phone the office. Next year we plan to order 10,000 copies more than this year but in the mean time we are running out just as the summer tourist influx is under way.

We still have a good supply of Haliburton County trade dollars. One side features our county crest while the other side is graced with the likeness of Thomas Chandler Haliburton for whom our county is named. Of interest to collectors is the fact that among the coins circulating there are ten coins that are 'mint marked'. These coins can be redeemed for $25.00 at the Chamber office on Highway 35 at Minden. These coins are legal tender in Haliburton County until December 31, 1983.

Over the next few weeks we're going to remain quite busy here in the office but whenever I get a chance I'm going to get out of the office and meet some more of our members. But if you're in the neighbourhood of the office drop on in. I'll be happy to meet you and talk about your concerns and hear your comments. If you're not in the neighbourhood call me at the office (286-1760) or drop me a line.

To see and do

This is a good week to visit Wilberforce for the annual Country Good Times on July 15-17. Over the last several years this has been a major event in the county and this year should be no exception with lots of music, dancing and fun and games. Anyone interested in entering the 9th annual amateur talent contest must call Donna Herbert at 448-2991 or 448-2981 to register. The semifinals will be on Saturday and the finals on Sunday.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery in the Minden Cultural Centre's current show is of oil paintings and watercolours by Frank Schmidt. Mr. Schmidt's artistic style is quite popular with art lovers in both Canada and Europe. The gallery is open from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The Minden Library will be featuring a free children's movie on Friday the 15 at 7:15 p.m.

Those great chefs of the Minden United Church will be cooking up a storm for their annual summer dinner on July 13th at the Minden United Church.

On July 16th the Minden A.C.W. will be holding their Bazaar and Luncheon at the Minden Anglican Church.

In the Rails End Gallery in Haliburton the instructors of the Haliburton Highlands School of Fine Arts are showing their works until the 31st of this month.

Local artists as well as artists from across Canada are all participating in the summer sale of arts and crafts at the Haliburton Senior Elementary School. The show, which is on until the 16th is an excellent opportunity to browse and buy whether for yourself or a gift for that special someone.

Up on Lake St. Nora at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre they are just getting underway in a long series of special programs that go on all summer. July 14th they are presenting a program on black powder hunting which is the way that hunting was done in years gone by: a truly unique chance to see something you normally just read about in history books. Interpretation Awareness Day is Saturday, July 16th. This special Saturday program will feature interpretive nature hikes at 10:30 and 2:30. More information about what's up at the Leslie Frost Centre can be obtained by calling 766-2451.

Drug factory uncovered

Police believe they have smashed a drug laboratory processing hashish oil. The laboratory was located at a cottage in Glamorgan Township.

According to local authorities, the Minden OPP, working in co-operation with Peel Regional Police assisted in carrying out a raid on the cottage in the early hours of Friday morning. The raid resulted in 16 kilograms of hashish oil being seized. The drug is estimated to have a street value of a quarter million dollars. Also seized in the raid was equipment used in the processing of the oil.

Three individuals were charged following the raid with conspiracy to traffic in a narcotic and possession of a narcotic for the purpose of trafficking. Charged are Raymond Stephen Jefferson, 25, of Brampton, Lance Ronald Hearsom, 25, also of Brampton and Richard Ganswick, 24 of Mississauga.

The three individuals have been returned to Peel Region for court appearances.

Assisting, from the Ontario Provincial Police, in addition to local personnel, was Detective Sergeant D.J.R. Woodbeck of District Headquarters in Peterborough.

Single car mishap

Three individuals in a pick-up truck escaped series injury Friday evening when the vehicle plunged down an embankment and struck a tree. The driver of the vehicle, 24 year old Scott Walker of Lutterworth Township, apparently lost control of the truck, causing it to leave the road. He, along with passengers Hailey Hamilton, 16, of Minden and Jeff Milburn, 20, of Carnarvon were injured, none seriously, in the mishap. Walker and Hamilton were taken to Red Cross Hospital in Minden for treatment.

The accident occurred on Horseshoe Lake Road north of Minden.

Jail sentence

A man who was found guilty of possession of a narcotic for the purpose of trafficking was sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on probation for a year. The charge resulted from an arrest made three years ago in Haliburton.

At that time, 24 year old Martin S. Grant was apprehended as he stepped off the bus. His final court appearance was delayed a number of times due to health problems and when the accused did finally appear in court June 30 he was found guilty and sentenced.

Grant will be allowed to serve his sentence intermittently.

The investigating officer was Constable Barry Connelly.

Bridge still a concern at Canning Lake

Property owners around Canning Lake are concerned that a new bridge planned for the narrows at Ingoldsby will restrict boat traffic between their lake and Kashagawigamog. At the group's annual meeting Sunday the membership endorsed a resolution asking the county, which will be installing the new bridge next year, not to reduce the clearance height between the normal high water mark and the bridge.

The issue had been brought to the property owners' attention last year by Joe Curtin, an owner of land adjacent to the bridge. He has objected to the construction of the new bridge and forced an expropriation hearing to be held before the county could obtain title to the property he owns.

Curtin told the meeting Sunday that the members would be "both shocked and dismayed when they see the design of the new bridge." He claimed the bridge would lower the clearance for boats by about four feet and the abutment construction would extend into the channel 16 feet. "This bridge will be there for a long time, let's make sure it is right," he advised the crowd.

An engineer who has been working with Curtin, Kevin Walters, told the Canning Lake property owners, "I suggest you sell your stern drive boats." He said the clearance under the bridge is now seven and a half feet and the new bridge would reduce it to 5.8 feet. He said the change could have an impact on property values on the lake since some boats will not have access to Lake Kashagawigamog, Soyers Lake and Head Lake at Haliburton.

Walters said in estimating the difference in clearance, he used the average water levels at July 1. He said the lake level was about nine inches below that level on Sunday.

According to the engineer, the reason the county has selected a bridge design which is lower than the present one is that it will cost about $5000 less. The replacement cost of the bridge is estimated at $400,000.

Following the discussion of the new bridge, the membership heard from Constable Mike Legge of the Minden Ontario Provincial Police. He answered a number of questions regarding boating regulations and safety and explained some of the protection programs, notably the water patrol of area cottages, to those in attendance. The officer was given a round of applause for the efforts the local detachment make in protecting property.

One property owner asked what the response time of the detachment would be if help was required at a particular location on the lake. Constable Legge was unable to offer an exact answer, noting it would depend on where the detachment officers were located at the time a call was received, the urgency and other activities taking place in the county. However, one of the residents offered a more concrete response, noting that they had called the police a week earlier to investigate a suspected break-in in progress. They said an officer was on the scene in 14 minutes time.

After reviewing a number of the social events planned for this summer, the association elected the officers for the coming year. Former vice president Whit Morris will serve as the president, vice presidents are Joe Stauffer, and Jack Robson, treasurer Ron Packard and secretary John Ashby. Serving on the executive will be directors Dale DeAth, Morgan Loucks, Jim Mitchell, Ed Ramsdale, Bill Riddell, Don Russell, Stew Sommacal, Michael Van Every, Ken Williamson, Wesley Lytle and Bruce Farmer.

Looking back

We continue this week with the revealing pamphlet written by Charles MacDermott in 1868. The publication, entitled 'Facts for Emigrants' described what awaited those travelling to Haliburton County from England. In this excerpt he discusses the fertility of the land.

The first impression that an emigrant forms of the back country is not favourable. He has been accustomed to the pastures and beautifully tilled corn fields of England, and when he sees the clearing of a settler, - the blackened stumps, the scattered logs, the rough and ugly faces, - he is disposed to take an unfavourable view of the whole affair. The land, too, is seldom level, and the surface is frequently encumbered with stones. Stone, indeed, is the great drawback of the whole of Canada, and especially in those districts that are yet unsettled. In looking for land in this neighbourhood, the only point to consider is whether it is free from stone - for the soil itself is universally good. The soil is high and loamy and sometimes sandy, but the subsoil is almost invariably a compact clay. Its fertility is abundantly manifested in the fine crops of wheat, Indian corn, oats, barley, peas, potatoes, and clover that are raised. A very moderate amount of skill and care will keep it in good heart; and the safest way, indeed, the only paying system is to take one or two crops of new land, and then seed it down with grass seeds or hay and pasture. In five years from the time of chopping, it can be readily ploughed, most of the stumps coming out with the plough. It is heavily timbered with hard wood, such as beech, and maple, and birch, - and there is sufficient cedar for fences. The whole country is thickly studded with lakes, and their effect is sensibly to ameliorate the climate. The winter is of the same length as on the shores of Ontario; the snow is seldom deep enough for good sledding before the middle of December, and it is off the ground by the first week in April. The lakes are closed for navigation about the middle of November. The Bobcaygeon road passes through a very bad country. It is the point of junction between the limestone formation and the granite. As soon as I passed the village of Minden, I noticed the difference at once, and we came into a country where it is evident agriculture can be carried on successfully.

Townships' swim programs started

This year, as every other year, there are two learn to swim programs available to residents in this area. The Minden Swim Program opened its doors on Twelve Mile Lake last Monday, while the Stanhope Swim Program commenced at the new Halls Lake Beach.

The Minden Swim Program, created by Mr. Frank Waters over thirty years ago, is a four week session running from July 3 until July 28 for anyone over five years of age. Among the students are two adults, one in each of the Bronze and Gray classes. The program uses the new Red Cross System of levels which progresses a student from yellow level 1 through orange, red, maroon, blue, green, gray and white level 8 and then on to bronze. The fee for these lessons is $16 per student with a family rate of $40. This cost includes bus fare from Minden Public School.

Employed to instruct these students are four capable teenagers. Lisa Bandi, age 17, and a cottager on Twelve Mile Lake is the program supervisor and has been with the program for two years. Janet Samson, a three year program veteran, is a 16-year-old cottager on Little Boshkung Lake. In addition to the required certificates for instructors, Janet has received her diving certification and her first aid award. Dave Thompson, 16 years old, is a Minden Lake cottager and is starting his first year with the program as an assistant instructor. Daniel Copeland, age 16, and a cottager on Echo Bay, also starts his first year with the program as an assistant instructor.

This year, the program has been organized by Mrs. Elinor Burke, Clerk Treasurer for the Townships of Anson, Hindon, and Minden. Anyone wishing to apply for employment as an Instructor for next summer or wanting any additional information may call Mrs. Burke at 286-1260.

Until last year, the Red Cross has sponsored the program and has paid most of the expenses. Next year however, no financial assistance is available and the program must look to volunteers and volunteer organizations to keep its head above water.

The newer program, the Stanhope Swim Program, is a six week session running from July 4 to August 12. A smaller program, it employs one instructor and two leaders. Caroline Nelson, who has been instructing for the program for five years is being aided by Michelle Harrison and Susan Ballantyne. This program, supervised by Mr. Gerald Bain, Reeve of Stanhope Township, has a student body of approximately 50. In addition to the Red Cross levels yellow through white, classes are also run for moms and tots and adults. The fee of $10 per person and $25 per family is only for instruction as no transportation is available.

The Township of Stanhope is now installing swing sets and Bar-B-Q's near the beach for future public use. Having moved from a beach on Little Boshkung Lake just three years ago, enrollment is down from what it was. It is expected to rise as more people come to know about the program. For any further information on this program, contact Mr. Gerald Bain at 489-2379.

Soccer team defeated 3-0

The Haliburton Dixie Lee Soccer team lost a 3-0 game Sunday at Haliburton. The victory extended Gravenhurst unbeaten string which stretches through the entire season.

The regular referee was unable to attend the game and the club was fortunate to be able to draw on the services of Brian Holden, a cottager in the area, who filled in.

The next game for the area club is July 17 at the HHSS field when they entertain the Orillia Bell. Game time is 2 p.m.

Players are reminded of a practice Thursday evening in Minden at Archie Stouffer Elementary School. Time for the practice is 7 p.m.

Hustlers trounce Lindsay 8-0

The Hustlers travelled to Lindsay last Tuesday Night and soundly defeated Turbo.

With the win the locals improved their record to 11 wins and 2 losses and assured them of at least a tie for first place in this year's Tri-County League.

The final game of the schedule will be this Wednesday night as the Hustlers entertain second place Lindsay Juniors. The Juniors hold a 10 and 3 record and could tie the locals with a win.

Jack Snell picked up the win on Tuesday night as he tossed a three hitter to raise his record to 6-2 for the year. Greg Newell was the big gun at the bat for the Hustlers as he pounded out 2 singles, a double and a triple. Dave Dollo and Dave Hartwick had 2 hits each.

Don't forget the game Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m. at Minden ball park.

Hustlers attend Tournament

The Rockcliffe Hustlers travelled to Harcourt to the 11th Annual Fastball Tournament during the past weekend. They made a good account of themselves although they didn't get into the finals.

On Friday night they knocked off Bracebridge, then on Saturday they defeated Haliburton before they were defeated by Tweed in the quarter finals. The game against Tweed was possibly the best game of the tournament as it went nine innings before the Hustlers went down to the score of 2-1.

The next tournament play for the Hustlers is this weekend in Lindsay.

Watch for details on the annual Rockcliffe Hustler tournament. This will be a sixteen team tournament on the weekend of August 12, 13 and 14.

Dixie Lee downs Haliburton Srs.

There were two very good games in the Haliburton County Ladies League last week. The Minden Dixie Lee played host to Haliburton Juniors and came out on top 5-2.

Barbara Barnhart came out swinging and scored two important runs for Minden. While Marla MacNaull and Sherry Davis scored one each for Haliburton. Nelda Cully got the win while Marg Smith took the loss. Jane Symons caught a good game for Minden.

Dixie Lee and Haliburton Seniors nearly ended up in a whirlwind contest, last Monday, but fortunately the game was postponed because of the storm.

West Guilford and Wilberforce shared the other exciting game of the week, with Guilford hanging on to 7-6 win. They were led by Merrie Barry and Bethany Wood. Wilberforce had a strong night from Kim Mumford, Rhonda Walsh and Cheryl Riley. Joan McKay pitched the win while Sue Musclow took the loss.

Wednesday the Haliburton Juniors hosted the Minden Juniors and came out on top 17-6. The Haliburton Juniors were led by Marla MacNaull, Tracy Harrison and Michelle Harrison. Kim Sinclair and Cheryl Dillon had a good night at the plate for Minden.

Also Wednesday night Wilberforce played at home against West Guilford. The Guilford team took this game by 13-8 score. They were led by Bev Sisson, Bethany Wood, Charlotte Barry and Linda Morrison. Joan McKay pitched the win while Sue Musclow took the loss.

The Annual Haliburton Ladies Softball Tournament will be held July 22, 23 and 24. Watch next weeks paper for further details.

There is a good feeling of activity-filled summer time around and about Haliburton. The Guild of Fine Arts has a full slate of activities to fill up those long, (and maybe not so) lazy summer days.

This week, (July 11 to July 16) is the final week of the Summer Exhibition and Sale. The Exhibition is the annual showcase of work of the various Guild groups. The quilters, spinners, weavers, knitters, painters are all displaying their crafts. As well, many of the Guild members have donated their time to demonstrate their work. The exhibition continues each day until July 16, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Senior Elementary School.

The pieces in the special members exhibition at the Summer Exhibition and Sale were juried on Thursday, July 7. Winners in the various categories are as follows: silk painting, Marta Vanderwal; pottery, Paul Johnson; sketching, Debbie Bates; woven garments, Judy Chapman; woodworking and designs, Phyllis Wood; oil painting, Joyce Barber; watercolours, Shirley Gray.

Thursday will be a busy day for both young and old. "Creating and Doing", the children's crafts program at Rails End will be held from 1-3 p.m. on Thursday. Those participating in the craft program should bring along bits of colourful paper (catalogues and wrapping paper are great) and bottles. Unfortunately the program will not be held if it is raining.

Cameras to lend

The Haliburton County Public Library through its 10 branches offers many services such as books, magazines, large print books, films and projectors and now has a new programme that of borrowing cameras.

The cameras are the new Sun 650 which have been provided as a gift to the library by Polaroid.

There are two cameras, one will be in the Minden Library and the other in Dysart (Haliburton) branch.

The cameras may be borrowed by members in good standing, 18 years of age and over. In order to ensure safe return of the camera it has been decided for the borrower to make a deposit of $10.00 which will be returned when the camera is brought back.

For more information, contact Haliburton County Public Library, telephone 457-2241.

Thursday evening is the first evening of the summer theatre series. "Pools Paradise", a comedy farce which played to sold out audiences at the popular Muskoka Theatre, will be performed at 8 p.m. at the Legion. Tickets are available at Rails End Gallery or at the door of the performance. Comments from those who have seen "Fools Paradise" are enthusiastic...sounds like a performance not to be missed.

The young and the young at heart are encouraged to join us on July 16 for some delightful entertainment in the form of puppetry and music. Lois and Herb, their puppet friends, and Honky Tonk piano will be present at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School at 2:30 p.m. to bring cheer and enjoyment to you.

Members of the Guild are very excited, and justifiably so, about the Guild Art Auction, on July 16 at 7:00 p.m. The introduction to the Art Auction Catalogue aptly describes the quality of work up for bidding: "The pieces have been collected with the serious collector in mind. The reserve bid prices start much below the market value of the works if purchased through a gallery."

With artists like Robert Bateman, Micheal Dumas and Neil Broadfoot included the Auction promises to be exciting. The Art Auction Catalogue is now available at Rails End Gallery. The Art Auction pieces are on display at the Summer Exhibition until July 16.

SATURDAY

They must be doing something right at Mr. Fogg's in Metropolitan Carnarvon. For ten years now they have been catering to the dining needs of the public and still the reputation and popularity of this multi-faceted restaurant continues to grow.

The dining room on the main floor provides one of the most relaxing experiences in the area. Overlooking the tranquil waters of Mirror Lake, the friendly staff cater to your every need. Select from a menu that contains such favourites as Alaska King Crab, Prime Rib and other delicious entrees. Each day the dining room features a special dish at a reasonable price. Or why not try Mr. Fogg's Creative Urgé, a special creation by the chef, just for that day ... always different, always delicious. And you'll like the price too.

Looking for more economical dining? Then try Mr. Fogg's Five and Dine. From Sunday to Thursday between five and six o'clock dinner is yours, complete with juice, home made bread, tea or coffee - all for only $5.99.

And of course, children are always welcome at Mr. Fogg's. They even have their own menu from which to make their selections.

Looking for a little more gusto? ... you'll find it downstairs in the Foggy Bottom. Here the atmosphere is more casual with live entertainment most weekends. Happy hour is such a good time in the Foggy Bottom that they stretched it to three hours, from 4 p.m. to 7 o'clock. It's a great place to enjoy a drink before dinner or to relax after dining.

Later in the evening the Foggy Bottom comes alive with music, dancing, freshly made, free popcorn to munch, and a late night snack for nibblers.

And, if all you want to do is stay home and relax, why not slip down to Fogg's for delicious take out food. The entire Foggy Bottom menu is available to take home, chicken by the piece, or barrel, the famous char broiled burgers, ribs and seafood. If you're in a real rush, call ahead and it will be ready to go when you arrive.

All this and more ... they must be doing everything right at Mr. Fogg's.

Mr. Fogg's is located in the heart of Metropolitan Carnarvon at the intersection of Highways 118 and 35. Open seven days a week, Fogg's is fully licenced. Call 489-2211 for reservations.

Crop tour Thursday

-Ag Report-

The first crop tour of 1983 in Victoria County is being held on Thursday, July 14th, sponsored by the Victoria Soil and Crop Improvement Association.

The tour will start at 7:00 p.m. sharp at the farm of Seldon Parker and Sons on the 11th Conc. of Mariposa Township. They have a plot of the new triazine resistant canola, which is of special interest, as well as red clover plots.

The second stop will be at the Buckthorn Control Demonstration Site on Hwy. No. 7 near Morgan Baker Farm Equipment.

The third and final stop on the tour will be at the Frost Campus of Sir Sandford Fleming College in Lindsay to view the spring grain and canola plots there.

Everyone is welcome on this Crop Tour. It is an excellent opportunity for area farmers to learn about new developments in crops, and for non-farm people to learn more about Victoria County's most important industry.

Holstein Club holds Beef Barbecue

A highlight of the year for the Victoria County Holstein Club is their annual Twilight Meeting and Beef Barbecue. This year's event will be held on Friday, July 15th at Engildale Farms, just east of Lindsay.

Engildale Farms, owned by Alwyn English and Sons, is located on the 7th Conc. of Ops Township, 1 km. south of the Downeyville Road.

The Twilight Meeting starts at 6:00 p.m. with a barbecued beef supper. Tickets are available in advance from club directors or at the Lindsay Agricultural Office at a cost of $7.50 for adults, or at the door for $8.50. Children's tickets are $2.00 and pre-school children are free.

This year the Holstein Club is issuing a special welcome to anyone in the area to join them for an interesting and enjoyable evening on July 15.

Triazine Resistant Weeds

"Too much rain leached the herbicide down"; "not enough rain to activate the herbicide." These two reasons are often given by farmers as excuses why a field is still weedy.

Triazine resistant lambsquarter, red root pigweed, and goldenrod have all been found in the east central area.

The number of calls on these weeds have increased rapidly this year. Since the weeds were first seen in the area about 4 years ago, more calls have come in each year.

If you are using Bladex, Atrazine, Simazine or combinations of these products on your corn field and you have only one weed escape—usually lambs-quarter—then suspect triazine resistance. Bladex alone may allow some pigweed and barnyard grass to escape.

Using Sencor or Lexone in soybeans also allows these weeds to escape.

How do you know for sure? Mix some atrazine in a small bottle and apply directly to some plants in the field and if the weed dies, blame the weather or your sprayer or your rate, etc. If it doesn't die, you join the increasing list of farmers with a new problem.

Let us know if you have this problem as we want to keep track of the spread of these and other weed problems.

Control of these weeds in corn is usually post-emergent application of 2,4-D or Banvel, or Kilmor, or Pardner, or Basagran. In soybeans use Basagran or Blazer.

Other weeds including ragweed, old witch grass and bird rape have been found resistant in counties not far away. Therefore, look your fields over and make sure your herbicide program is working.

Area lakes 88% full

-Trent Severn Report-

On July 4 the Haliburton area reservoir lakes were at 88% of their normal full level which is a drop of about 4% from week before. This was 1.5% higher than the 10-year average for that date. Following this reading the flow was reduced from the Gull and Burnt watersheds, with the flow at Norland declining to 18.4 cubic metres per second from 24.2.

Kawartha Lakes levels had been helped up a little by rain on Friday, July 1.

Quite dry conditions have obtained since that date and now (July 8) the levels are generally back down to within 3 cm. of the normal navigation level. Otonabee River flow remains near its minimum at the same setting as last week.

Lake Simcoe-Couchiching was about 1 cm. lower than last week and about 3 cm. lower than its rule curve level for this date. Discharge of water to the Severn

River is near minimum at this time.

Deserving Thunderous Applause

Nature joined in the applauding of Fenelon Falls July 1st Lock Centennial celebration with clapping thunder. The storm was punctual, arriving just as the official ceremonies were to begin.

Parks Canada, the people of Fenelon Falls, and many visitors were celebrating the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the locks' construction. A flotilla cruised a short stretch of the Trent-Severn and travelled through the Fenelon Falls locks to mark the occasion. Sea cadets were aboard each vessel to escort invited guests from the boats to their seats underneath the canopy on shore. However, this schedule of events did not run its planned course. As soon as the flotilla was in the lock, a downpour of rain sent everyone running for cover.

The pickings may still be a little slim, but the buyers at Minden's Farmer's Market are eager. It is expected that as the season progresses more vendors with a larger variety of products will be on hand for the sale. One buyer is seen here with his recently purchased dozen farm fresh eggs. The market is held every Saturday morning at 9 o'clock beside the municipal office.

New acid rain labs open

Outside the community of Dorset, off Highway 117, a small collection of trailers sits near the road. That group of portable buildings, while looking like it could be set up for crews doing roadwork, contains part of Canada's effort to gather information on the effects of acid rain on our environment.

The Dorset Field Research Station for Acid Precipitation has just received a financial boost from the province of Ontario involving millions of dollars to do the research to accumulate more vital information.

The Dorset station has been in operation since 1974, originally established as part of the Lakeshore Capacity Study. The study was designed to discover the capacity of lakes in Haliburton and Muskoka for recreational purposes.

In 1979 the facility was altered to conduct research for the acid rain program after the need for such a program had been ascertained by the provincial governments.

Now 35 people work in the 17 trailer complex not including those students and faculty conducting research in the trailers belonging to several universities.

The center samples eight lakes and 30 streams weekly to enable it to thoroughly analyse changes.

A vital part of the precipitation study lab is a fenced off area behind the trailers containing sophisticated equipment designed to collect precipitation.

Sensors sensitive to moisture, control the lids on several of the containers in the area. When a drop of rain strikes, the motorized top of the vessel lifts itself to allow rain to be collected. There are several different types of snow collectors as well.

A small building contains instruments to gauge other elements of the environment. The wind velocity and its direction are recorded as is the ozone level. Ron Reid of the center said that during a recent hazy period, the indicator, which is also used to determine pollution levels, was beyond maximum levels.

There are also two chemistry labs at the site, breaking down and investigation water samples assembled by field personnel. The work done includes studies of the acidity of the water samples from the test lakes and streams. Acid or alkaline is added to the water to study the pH level.

A connection between acid precipitation and the occurrence of higher concentrations of metals, particularly aluminum and zinc, has been proven. The acidity leaches out these metals in greater quantities than usual.

These metals have also been proven to have an effect on wildlife in the streams and lakes polluted.

Bruce Lazerte on staff at the site, said the detrimental effect of aluminum on crayfish has now been proven in the field as well as in research labs. The field station is now looking for similar types of concrete proof in fish.

Computers are another area into which funds have been channeled. One half of a new office trailer will shortly be converted to house some of the 11 computers on the site.

Hopefully, funds will be available sometime in the future to house all the equipment at the center. Terminals will be placed in the various offices and labs, said Reid.

SPOT THE SHOT

Yes, we have a winner! From the avalanche of letters received for contest No. 1 in Spot The Shot, one entry was selected by lot from among those correctly identifying the lakes above and below the dam. The winner is Judy Phillips of Minden. The lake above the dam is Horseshoe Lake while the lake below is Minden Lake. The picture in Contest No. 1 was a portion of the Minden White Water Preserve. Others who correctly identified the location of the picture were: Olive Ward, Sandra Cole, Mrs. R. Parsons, Mrs. Mary Roberts, Miss Diane Cowen, Mr. Alvin Cowen, Mrs. Alvin Cowen, Ann Lucas, Phil Graham, Lorna Hicks, Lisa Barry, Carole Drysdale, Jeanne Sears, Mrs. Marie Collison, Mrs. M. Loucks, Mrs. Joyce Brown, David Phillips, Marjorie Phillips, Dave Farrell, Elva Deacon and Darlene Walker, Carole Lacey, Ron McKenzie, David Schell, Jeremy Phillips, Lynn Raback and Jon Orpana. Thanks to everyone who entered, keep trying. Judy Phillips' prize for correctly identifying the picture is a $25 shopping certificate courtesy of Easton's Red and White. The certificate can be used in either Minden or Haliburton locations.

Here's is contest No. 3. This dam separates two lakes in the Haliburton Highlands. Recognize this spot? If you do send the name of the lakes above and below the dam to: Spot The Shot, Contest No. 3, c/o The Times Box 97, Minden, Ontario. Don't forget to include your name and address. Entry deadline is July 26. The winning entry will be announced in the July 28 issue of The Times. The entry selected by lot from all the correct ones received will win a shopping certificate worth $25 redeemable at Haliburton or Minden Red and White Grocery stores.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: Can you tell what yesterday was, and what tomorrow will bring?

A: Today

Q: From what can you take away the whole and still have some left?

A: The word wholesome.

Q: What goes through a door but never goes in and never comes out?

A: The keyhole.

Q: What does everyone have, but tries to get rid of?

A: An appetite.

Q: It belongs to you, but I can see it and you can't.

A: Your face.

Q: What water never freezes?

A: Boiling water.

The latest art exhibit opening at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, featuring the work of artist Franz Schmidt was a big success. About one hundred people turned up to view the paintings and were very favorably impressed. We urge you to participate in our gallery by becoming a member or family membership. The single membership is $10.00 and the family is $15.00. This is a very worthy cause and we expect to have many exciting shows at the Gallery in the near future.

The many friends of Mr. Warner Casey are sorry to hear that he is back in Haliburton Hospital. Everyone wishes him a speedy recovery.

The residents of the Sunrise apartments, feted Gordy Vincent of Haliburton and Earl Toye to birthday parties on their birthdays, and a great time was had by all. We add our good wishes.

I am currently reading The Far Pavilions by M.M. Kaye who was herself born in India. It is a mammoth book but I heartily recommend it. The setting is India in the eighteen hundreds and is a most intriguing tale.

Mrs. Mary Windover is spending a week at Kennis Lake with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Garden.

Elsa Seuret is spending the summer at her cottage at Sandy Bay.

Ada Turrell is visiting her mother Mrs. Martha Mansfield at her cottage.

Mrs. Burton has returned home from a lengthy stay in the hospital. All her friends are happy to see that she is on the mend.

Diane Stevens has also returned home after a lengthy stay in the hospital. Everyone wishes her a speedy recovery.

Irwin Karnick visited on Tuesday. Irwin is, in the consensus of his colleagues, to be one of the kings in the Art of Photography. He is now engaged in filming a documentary and his show in New York promises to be a huge success.

Florence Schlosser is visiting her son at his cottage on Lake Kushog for a week. A belated happy birthday from us all Florence.

Bob Guthrie and his son Guy visited with parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rockory this past weekend.

Susan Beers of The Times, and children are off on a wonderful four week holiday in Scotland. Wish I could be in your suitcase Susan.

I am sorry to report the deaths of Mrs. Rosa Luna from Haliburton and Mr. Vincent Bouchard from Minden, last week. Our deepest sympathy to the members of their families.

Winners of the Museum Card Party last week are as follows, Euchre, Lone Hands, Shirley Elcome, other winners, Ann Rockory and Vera Ward.

There are two great bazaars to attend this week. One at the Minden United Church to be held on Wednesday, July 13 from 5 to 7 p.m. The other at St. Paul's on Saturday, July 16th, beginning at 10 a.m. There will be a bake sale and many interesting features. The Thrift Shop will also be open. St. Paul's and a raffle will feature two paintings and a sketch. Mark these dates on your calendar, they are both too good to miss.

I am sorry to report that Emma Hewitt is presently confined to Civic Hospital in Peterborough, having undergone surgery. Steven Zeller is also confined to Civic Hospital, Peterborough. We all wish these two good people a complete and speedy recovery.

Mrs. Wes Dawson of Peterborough, spent a few days visiting friends and relatives in Minden and vicinity, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Morrison visited his mother, Mrs. Alice Morrison over the weekend.

Don't forget the free movies for children to be shown this Friday, July 15 from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. at the Minden Cultural Centre.

Mr. Roger Walker and Suzy of Toronto, visited with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harrison, also his sister Heather and her two children from Sault Ste. Marie, visiting with the Harrisons, attended the Walker-Hogg Reunion in Minden, last Saturday Night.

The Walker-Hogg family reunion that took place on Saturday, July 9th at the Minden Arena could be considered a success. Several square dances were played. The caller was Mr. Willis Walker, on fiddle, Mr. Alf McCall and Mrs. Velma Harrison, on guitar was Heather Hannah daughter of Mrs. Elmer Harrison and the late Leslie Walker, also on base was Greg Barton. Dorothy and George Cairns from Detroit, Michigan, were two of the honoured guests that travelled to attend the function. The spirit of the reunion was captured by the fact that there were people attending the gathering who had not seen each other for many years. Bouquets are handed out to all of those who organized and attended the reunion.

The sixth annual Cox reunion was held this year at the Minden Recreation Centre on Sunday, July 10th with 93 people in attendance. Mrs. Annie Cox 90 years young (and guest of honor) -all her family including 30 grandchildren, 39 great-grandchildren, 8 great, great grandchildren who came from California, Atlanta, Georgia, Rose-neath, Minden, Peterborough, Bancroft, Aurora, Oshawa, Tottinham, Toronto, Bobcaygeon and Burlington. Everyone had a great time. They played baseball, horseshoes, listened to live music provided by the grandchildren and enjoyed a delicious buffet lunch. We join with her large family and friends in wishing her many, many more happy reunions, and all our blessings.

On Carnivals

Ah carnivals depress me,
The saddest shows in town,
The garish lights, the ropes and tents
Put them up, then pull them down
The midway and the sideshow
Grotesquely painted clown
Whose face a mask and wide red mouth
Emits a raucous sound.
You hear it in the distance
Pagliacci's thoughts abound.
Come on and hit the target!
You hear a barker plead,
For only just a quarter
You've got the skill and speed
To hit the shiny yellow ducks
You're sure to win a prize
A fancy curly kewpie doll Right there before your eyes.
The lion tamer's whip
snakes out
The lion's fearless roar,
He stands undaunted in his might
Just like the night before.
I love the animal because
He does not choose to fight
He's brought to his captivity
No one to share his plight.
The King of beasts is in the ring

To play his special role
His majesty is not to fight
Or be in man's control
He's meant to roam the jungle wild
A strong and noble beast
And only when his hunger's whet
He seeks and finds a feast.

Prizes and cotton candy
When carnivals arrive in town
Their wagons spick and spandy
For me, I'd just plain stay at home
And that to me is dandy.
Yvonne

AN INDICATION

TO ALL YOUNG LADIES OF HALIBURTON COUNTY

The service in the chapel Sunday night, took on a pleasant twist, we had a fine young lady Rev. Burgess to assist. The Thompsons took the first part, which they always do, for this we say a big thank you. Then Heather Bowron who goes to join the Friendship Service had this to say "Thank you for the large donation to help pay my way". She played and sang so well for us, for Heather we must pray. She surely will be missed when she goes away.

Tuesday morning Rev. George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church along with his assistant, Rev. Dennis Dolloff, held a most impressive communion service in the Chapel. Rev. Dolloff spoke on being lonely. He said when you have had a dear friend with you for sometime, when they must leave it gives you that lonely feeling, but you can always turn to the One who is always near, that lonely feeling will soon disappear. Our girls came again to play and sing, we thank them for coming there messages to bring.

We played games Tuesday afternoon and had a lot of fun, one reason was my partners and I won.

Tuesday night our musicians came all the way from Grass Lake shore; entertained us royally. What could we ask for more. Earl played the fiddle also the mandolin, Kathy played the accordion and they sang some favourite Hymns.

We welcome Doris back again, we hope this time to stay. A big thank you to Linda for keeping things running smoothly while her sister was away.

Our country is so lovely now with its lakes, woods and parks, with many different kinds of birds including meadowlarks.

Sorry to report that Ada Allcorn and Mary Langdon are in the hospital, we hope they'll soon be better and back with us again.

The Strawberry Tea and Bazaar is over, it was a perfect day, and there was a real good crowd to see what was on display. A bus load from Extencicare came our way. We were glad to see our ladies did quite well financially.

On these warm and sultry days up here the place to go is in our gazebo. It is lovely, you can sit and reminisce a bit or if that is too much trouble you can just sit.

Thursday afternoon a group of ladies from Kinmount came our way, and with them they did bring a delicious lunch, fit for any king. They had all kinds of goodies, nice sandwiches and such, we thank them for coming, we enjoyed it very much.

Friday afternoon was Sing-Song time again, quite a number of ladies, but very few men. Norma played the music, Grace led us in song, then read two funny poems, "Junior needs new shoes" and "Where's my hat, it isn't where it belongs." Grace sang a couple of numbers which were really fine, we look forward to them coming, we have a jolly time. Then who should happen along but Carol Ann and Amy Hughes to help in our Sing-Song.

If we haven't mentioned I really think we should, the throwing of the darts at fun and fitness was won by Amelia Good. There are always relatives coming in to visit Mother, Father, sister or brother and as they are passing through they stop to visit others.

Happiness is like a crystal, fair, exquisite and clear, Broken in a million pieces, shattered, scattered far and near, Now and then along life's pathway, low some shining fragments fall, But there are so many pieces, no one ever finds them all.
